Gifts that cost you nothing during your lifetime

Make a bequest or estate plan gift
A bequest is a gift from your estate—a transfer of cash, securities, or other property—made through your estate plans. A bequest costs nothing now and enables you to contribute to Second Harvest far into the future.

Gifts from your will or trust

How it works
- Include a bequest to Second Harvest of Silicon Valley in your will or trust.
- Indicate a specific amount, a percentage of your estate, or a portion of the balance remaining in your estate or trust.
- Make your bequest unrestricted, for general use and purpose.

Benefits
- Your assets remain in your control during your lifetime.
- You can modify your bequest to address changing circumstances.
- Under current tax law there is no upper limit on the estate tax deduction for your charitable bequests.

Sample bequest language
"I hereby give ____________* to Second Harvest of Silicon Valley, tax ID # 94-2614101, to be used for its general support."

* Fill in the blank with the dollar amount, percentage of estate, or specific property you intend to give to Second Harvest.

Is this gift right for you?

Do you:
- Want to help ensure Second Harvest’s future viability and strength?
- Want the flexibility of a gift commitment that doesn’t affect your current cash flow?

Ready to get started, but don’t have a will?
Second Harvest has you covered. We’ve partnered with FreeWill, a secure online will and trust writing service that removes the usual barriers to estate planning — time, cost, and hiring an attorney — to make it free and accessible for all.
Gifts from your retirement plan

A retirement plan gift can be a tax-efficient and simple way of including Second Harvest in your estate plan.

How it works
- Name Second Harvest of Silicon Valley as a beneficiary of your IRA, 401(k) or other qualified plan.
- Designate us to receive all or a portion of the balance of your plan through your plan administrator.
- After your lifetime, the balance of your plan passes to Second Harvest tax-free.

Benefits
- Avoid the double taxation your retirement savings would incur if you designated your heir(s) as beneficiary(ies).
- Continue to take regular lifetime withdrawals.
- You can revoke us as beneficiary if your family’s needs change.

Qualified charitable distribution

Are you 70.5 or older?

We are delighted to share our new resource to help donors 70.5 or older make a tax-free gift from your IRA called a Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD). Join our most tax-savvy donors by giving to Second Harvest directly from your IRA, while fulfilling your Required Minimum Distribution. Visit shfb.org/pg to learn more.

Gifts anyone can make

You can support causes you are passionate about with gifts that don’t impact the way you live today by either designating your favorite charity to receive estate assets in the future or by making immediate gifts of assets that are “out of sight and out of mind.”

Designate and donate
Ask your bank, investment firm or life insurance company for a beneficiary designation form to designate and donate.
Designate Second Harvest of Silicon Valley as a beneficiary of your donor-advised fund

A donor-advised fund (DAF) is a charitable investment account created for the sole purpose of supporting charitable organizations you care about.

While you may have charitable legacy intentions with your DAF account, execution of your intentions is best ensured with a succession plan.

How it works
- You can do this when you create the fund, or if you already have one, contact your fund administrator to complete a change of beneficiary form.
- Name Second Harvest as the beneficiary of the entire account or a percentage of the fund.
- After your lifetime, the remaining funds pass to Second Harvest to support our mission.

Benefits
- Continue to maximize the tax advantages of making a gift to a donor-advised fund.
- Recommend grants on an ongoing monthly, quarterly, semiannual, or annual basis.
- Option to revoke beneficiary if your charitable goals change.
